Paul Revere/Raiders: Talent and Hard Rock Bring 3 Smash Hits

Clearly, the most talented, professional hard-rock group in the United States today is Paul Revere and The Raiders. They have had three smash records in a row, are seen daily on national TV on "Action," and are sensations everywhere.

Paul Revere, Mark Lindsay, Mike "Smitty" Smith, and Philip "Fang" Volk now compose The Raiders. Drake Levin is in the Army for four months and it's questionable as to whether or not a replacement will be sought.

The difference between Paul Revere and The Raiders and the hundreds or thousands of other rock groups is that they are intelligent, business-minded, sincere young men who have no "Hang-ups" about labels or images or eccentric musical values.

They want to be a first class group who would entertain fans who pay good money to see them.

As HITLINE said recently in reviewing their Hullabaloo appearance, "The Raiders don't wander around aimlessly on stage twanging and screaming. They are entertainers of the first order..."

Individually, The Raiders shape up this way: Paul Revere is 5', 11", weighs 170 lbs., and has blonde hair and blue eyes. He was born in Nebraska and raised in Idaho and his ambitions are to be successful and wealthy.

His favorite artists are Jerry Lee Lewis, Jonathan Winters, and The Beatles.

Mark Lindsay is 22, 6' 2", weighs 180 lbs., and has dark brown hair and hazel eyes. He was born and raised in Oregon and loves girls, people and the sun.

His ambition is to be comfortable and warm and his favorites are James Brown, Paul Desmond, Jonathan Winters and The Beatles.

Mike "Smitty" Smith is 21, 5' 8", weighs 150 lbs., and has brown hair and eyes. He was born and raised in Oregon and loves staying up late.

More than anything, he wants success and he loves Mose Allison, Ray Charles, Jonathan Winters and The Beatles...

Philip "Fang" Volk is 19, 6' and weighs 164 lbs. He has dark brown hair and brown eyes and is a native of Los Angeles.

He loves music and the outdoors and wants to be a musical success. He favors Debusky, Jonathan Winters, and The Beatles.

The Raiders are currently on a cross-country tour with the "Where The Action Is" show and will return to Los Angeles around May 15.

Warner Bros. Plans New Teen Musical

"Rebel Without a Cause," the picture with which Warner Bros. established the pattern for modern teenage drama and one of the most successful films of 1955, will be made into a musical, it was announced by the studio.

The original version starred James Dean and Natalie Wood and gave Dean another thrust toward stardom that had started with "East of Eden."

The picture also won Academy Award nominations for Miss Wood and for Sal Mineo.

Mayo Simon has been signed by Warners to write the script of the new musical version.

Good Guys Schedule Appearances

The KFWB Good Guys have set several personal appearances in the next few weeks.

On Friday, April 29, B. Mitchel Reed will emcee the Battle of the Bands at Canoga Park High School, 8 p.m. On the same day, Joe Yoram will appear at the San Pedro High School Dance.

Saturday, May 7, will find Lord Tim at the Southwest Community Health Clinic emceeing their "Afternoon Show," at their Mardi Gras.

Guests on Action

The Mamas and Papas, Lou Christie, Little Dion, the Barratts, Shirley Ellis and Lincoln Chase, Pamela Miller, Just Us, Dave Berry, Otis Redding, Karen Verres, and the Specter Davis Group will be the featured guest artists on Dick Clark's Monday through Friday afternoon ABC/TV series, "Where The Action Is," for the week of April 25-29.

Larry Williams, 17-year-old Morningside High School student won the Ford GTA on the KFWB Spring Fun Sweepstakes. Reb Foster happily hands him the keys. Congratulations, Larry!
BEWARE!
The Masked Man Is Here

The pop music field is full of gimmicks, and this latest one is not to be believed. It is a masked singer named David Soul.

"People always ask for just one quick peek. And when I refuse they try to see through, up, around, and down the thing. Trying to form an opinion of what my face looks like, I guess," David Soul, the Covered Man, says so and he ought to know.

Soul sings a new type of music, called "soft rock" and he sings it with a mask covering his head and face.

His newest song, "The Covered Man," has been released by MGM Records. During the past several months Soul has watched a new game develop because of his mask.

His fans around the country have been trying to guess his real identity. The wilder, and more absurd the guesses, the better.

For example, a young lady in Los Angeles guessed it was Bob Dylan, and a group of New York high schoolers waited for Soul at a TV appearance with signs claiming that under the cover was really Jack Paar trying to be "hip."

Game or not, no one in show business but his personal manager has ever seen his face. Even the William Morris Agency had to accept David Soul at face (or in this case faceless) value.

The agency was very interested in the good, new sound of Soul's audition tape and arranged for a personal interview with him.

"They were surprised when I refused to unmask even when they told me the agency couldn't sign me unless I did. I think that was when they started taking the reasons for my cover seriously," Soul relates.

Soul says he wears the cover in order to remain anonymous in a highly public business. But is the inconvenience of being masked in an unmasked world worth it all?

"Granted there are inconveniences. But I disagree that this is an unmasked world. I think everyone wears a mask. I just happen to make mine more public and obvious than other people do."

DAVID SOUL is a young singer who wishes his real identity to be withheld. HIGHLIGHT questioned, but he would not reveal it. He did say that we might recognize his real name.

It's a great feeling to have two separate and distinct personalities. I don't mean I'm a split personality or like that, but I don't have to kid anyone this way. That's a big advantage over some of the other things I've done."

Soul doesn't like to talk about his past life, or his current masked one, but he does admit to having been cowboy, bank clerk, world traveller, "A student," and college dropout.

David Soul is in Los Angeles this week to do some television shows. Watch for further developments in this mystery in HIGHLIGHT.

GROUP AUDITIONS

The Enchantments, winning group in the Teen-Age Fair's Battle of the Bands at the Palladium last week, will be auditioned by Columbia Records later this week. The group won the audition after out-screaming more than 100 other entries in the Fender Guitar Company's six-day competition. An East Los Angeles group, the Enchantments have worked together for one year. Most of the members are high school students and their average age is 17.

THE PARIS SISTERS pose happily with the Teen Screen Magazine Award for Favorite Female Recording Group of 1965. From left they are Priscilla, Alibeth and Sherrell.

TOP RECORDING GROUP

The Paris Sisters... 'Age' AND Beauty!

Alibeth, Priscilla and Sherrell Paris are the youngest show business "veterans" around. These girls have been in the business professionally for over 10 years and they are only in their early Twenties!

BEST known for their million-seller, "I Love How You Love Me," The Paris Sisters (real sisters) first started out as pre-teen dancers doing military camp shows outside their hometown of San Francisco. Dancing led to singing and then they were on their way.

The Paris Sisters have played to capacity crowds at every major club in the U.S. including The Dunes, Flamingo, Tropicana and The Sands in Las Vegas, Copacabana in New Orleans, and Harrach's in Lake Tahoe.

They were recently voted the favorite female recording group by the readers of Teen Screen Magazine and were presented the award by KFMB's Lord Tim at the Awards Show at the Palladium.

Has being in show business so long interfered with their growing up naturally?

Neil: I don't think so. Even though we are the youngest old-time show business act, I always remember wanting to finish working in a club so I could come home and go to my prom," said Priscilla.

The Paris Sisters have just finished a television special called "The Glass House" which is a variety show with a spiritual message on unity between teens and parents.

'We've also recorded an album called 'The Glass House' on Reprise, and our new single produced by Jimmy Bowen is called 'I'm Me,'" said Alibeth.

BEAU BRUMMELS SIGN

The Beau Brummels, who formerly recorded with the now-defunct label of Autumn Records, have signed with Warner Bros. Records their manager, Carl Scott, announced today. The boys, whose records of "Laugh, Laugh" and "Just A Little" placed them among the top ten, are currently touring the East Coast. They will be in Atlanta on April 18-19; Marriott College in Poughkeepsie on April 29 and The Carousel in Buffalo on April 29, before they return to their homes on the West Coast.

FORREST & SHERI

The newest singing duo, Forrest Geiger and Sherri Kaye, arrived in Los Angeles this week to meet with Publisher Al Kavelo, (a former Giant Record winner — 'Alley Oop') who is interested in the many songs these two singers have written.

Each has written more than a dozen popular ballads, including a Hawaiian song, a patriotic song in a light vein— with a heavy message, a song about a wounded Marine, and a children's song.

Forrest & Sheri have been living in Hawaii for a number of years and are well known entertainers there.

Both were members of two different singing teams, and after the two teams broke up - Forrest and Sheri formed a partnership with an eye toward entertaining troops in Viet Nam.

They have entertained thousands of GI's from the USA, Canada, New Zealand, Australia, Japan and England, have performed in night clubs in Waikiki, and appeared many times on television.

Forrest Geiger is 23 and hails from Illinois, while Sherri Kaye is 20 and comes from Santa Barbara, that is before they moved to Hawaii several years ago where they met on the circuit.

"We'll always be grateful to Napa Stevens, Eddie Sherman, Bob Jones and Jane Alender (well-known columnists in Hawaii) for the recognition and wonderful write-ups they gave us" says Sheri.

"Hawaii is the wonderful place and the people are really great" states Forrest. And we hope to return there as permanent residents."
'GIRLS MORE HIP'

Peter and Gordon Dig Americans

By SUE CAMERON

Peter and Gordon are two young English gentlemen with their sixth hit record and opinions on just about every subject. Example? "American girls are more hip," said Peter. "Yeah, they are crazier over here. When Peter and I walk along Sunset Blvd, girls drive along and ask to drive us somewhere. That would never happen in England," said Gordon.

How do the boys like America? "When we first came to America we had one hit record, 'World Without Love,' and we thought, as what, one hit, big deal? We didn't know what to expect, if anything.

'We found out during our first show at the New York World's Fair that the stage was a morn or pool and soon about 200 kids were thrashing about in the water with their clothes on trying to reach us," said Peter.

'That was wild, but San Diego was something else. The police tried to stop the show three times but we refused to quit. Finally they pulled the mikes out so we couldn't sing. They closed shops, hair, everything. Tons were arrested. It was a fabulous night!"

'We love to work in the United States. It's not worth touring in England for the kind of money you get, and besides, all the tours are bombing as you Americans put it. We'd like to stay here all the time," said Gordon.

The conversation next turned to clothes. "American men's clothes are a drag. We've bought only a few sportswear things like denim and cowboy rags. We design all our performance wardrobe but not odd," said Peter.

'Young English people are dressed better than the kids we see here. English boys especially appear smarter. California girls are most beautiful in their brightly-colored sports clothes but uncool in cocktail dresses or semi-formal wear," said Gordon.

'What about the future? "We don't feel all that sure of our future. If our records stop, God knows we'll do. Of course, we'll go on singing one way or another, possibly in night clubs or coffee houses. We know hundreds of songs for many different types of audiences. But we feel confident at least for a few more years. We'll keep faith with Capitol Records who are behind us with all they've got."'

The Yardbirds have a huge hit on the Fabulous Forty, "Shapes of Things." The boys are due to come to the U.S. soon.

Proby Proves Publicity at Hullabaloo

Having heard so many things about P.J. Proby's super ego and his "obscene" paint-splitting performances which caused him to be banned from English theaters and television, The HOTLINE was anxious to judge Proby for itself.

Little did we know that we would soon discover why millions of girls fall in love with his stage personality and fantastic voice.

For his first return concert in America since the one show last June at the Shrine Auditorium, Proby appeared at the Hullabaloo Club. Last June at the Shrine show he was mobbed on stage and the curtain was closed within four minutes after he first appeared on stage.

Preceded by the Hullabaloo's regulars, the Palace Guard, the revolving stage changed to reveal Proby's 10-piece orchestra. For the first show, P.J. appeared in a red velvet bell-bottom outfit with matching Tom Jones shoes and a bow holding his long locks back.

Proby showed a warm stage personality through his kind eyes and joking smile. He seemed to be saying, "I'm not taking this seriously, are you? I hope you are enjoying this as much as I am." He then continued to leap about the stage.

His fantastic voice was made apparent when he sang "Ma" and "Somewhere," from "West Side Story," in addition to numerous fast numbers.

In his following shows, Proby did away with his standard velvet outfits and wore houndstooth hip hanger pants and a houndstooth bell bottom suit from Carnaby Street. Several times during his performance, girls calmly walked up to the stage and handed notes to Proby. Several other times, girls rushed the stage to grab hold of their idol's tights, a girl even attempted to approach P.J. with a pair of scissors in hopes of getting a lock of his hair.

MRS. ELVA MILLER

A STAR IS BORN

Last week Mrs. Elva Miller was just a housewife but today, less than a week after the release of her first Capitol album, she's the toast of Claremont, Calif. and a hit throughout the U.S.

'Mrs. Miller's Greatest Hits' has become, in three days, the most talked-about and played album in America.

Stations around the country—from rock 'n' roll to classical—are giving the album by the Claremont grandmother saturation airplay. Among some of the typical reactions:

WIP (Philadelphia) has formed a "Mrs. Miller Fan Club"... WKNR (Detroit) has made it the "pick of the week"... KFWB (Los Angeles) introduced her to the audience as 'a phenomenal new artist... and began playing 'Downtown,' one of the tracks in the LP, hourly... WIBG (Philadelphia) and WMCA (N.Y.) were only a few of the many others who agreed that "Mrs. Miller was the greatest."

The "Miller Sound" also spread to television. Offers from some of the top network variety shows have delayed her Claremont homestead.

Among the first she accepted was top billing on a show last Sunday in Hawaii. She left early to fulfill the engagement with Hawaii disk jockey, Hal Lewin.

When she returns to L.A., this week she'll discuss other offers with her manager and discoverer, Fred Bock.

So vast, in fact, has the positive reaction been to Capitol's new singing sensation, that the 90,000 initial allocation of "Mrs. Miller's Greatest Hits" was sold out in a matter of 48 hours and the label immediately ordered another 100,000 pressed.

Knickerbockers Cut Single

Continuing our coverage of on-the-scene events, HIT-LINE went to the Knickerbockers' latest recording session for Challenge Records.

The Knickerbockers, currently on tour with the "Where The Action Is Show," recorded a new single and album to be released when they finish the tour.

Their last hit, "One Track Mind," is still breaking all over the country.

Johnny and Beau Charles, Jimmy Walker, and Buddy Randell comprise this group which is well on its way to becoming the top group in the country.

WORK OUT — The first step in a recording session is to record the track or music behind the voices. Here Beau Charles really grooves.

SUCCESS! Obviously, the Knickerbockers are delighted with the playback. Jerry Fuller of Challenge Records, right, discovers of the boys, is very pleased with what he has heard. Fuller, also a singer, has released a new single "Turn To Me." In the background is Glen Campbell.

STEP TWO is recording the voices over the track. From left John Charles, Beau Charles, Jimmy Walker, and Buddy Randell really concentrate on doing a perfect job.

TEEN-AGE GIRLS GRAB HONORS IN KITCHEN

NEW YORK — When it comes to food, America's 12 million teen-age girls do more than raid the ice-box.

Almost all cook, bake and help prepare meals, according to a new survey from Seventeen Magazine. Many girls shop and/or plan meals, and three-fourths wash the dishes.

Furthermore, teen-age girls come to the aid of the party. Last year, they gave a total of 13 million major parties for their friends, averaging 28 guests at each. They spent an average of $18.51 per party, which adds up to a grand total of $237 million dollars for teen parties in one year.

The girls come to the aid of their mothers, too. Nine out of 10 girls cook, and more than half of these cook a family meal in any given week. The meal they prepare usually is dinner, made with their favorite foods.

This means roasts, steak, vegetables, potatoes, desserts and fowl. For the family, they most often make roasts, vegetables, hamburgers, steaks, egg dishes and fowl. And of course, almost all teen-helpers set the table.

Daughters also put in time pushing shopping carts. There are more than nine million teen food shoppers in the U.S., and they most often do their buying in the afternoon — especially on Saturday.

These statistics are based on responses to questionnaires sent to teen-age girls themselves — and separate forms filled out by their mothers. So not only does Daughter feel she's a big help in the kitchen, but Mom agrees!
SCATMAN GROTHERS came by KGDB last week to give his new single to Bob Foster (left) and Joe Yocum (right). It is called "What's A Nice Girl Like You Doing In A Place Like This?" and is on the Hanna-Barbera label.

Marvelos Signed by M. Gordon Prod.

Marc Gordon Productions recently signed the Marvelos to a long-term recording and management contract.

The group was formerly with Gordon prior to his association with Motown Record Corp. as West Coast manager.

CHORD CHANGES

BLAME IT ON THE BOSSA NOVA
Words and Music by CYNTHIA WELCH AND BARRY MANN

VERSE

I was at a dance...when she caught my eye...Standing all alone...
lookin' sad and shy...We began to dance...

swayin' to and fro...And soon I knew I'd never let her go.

CHORUS

Blame It On The Bossa Nova...With its magic spell...
Blame It On The Bossa Nova...That she did well.
Oh, it all began with just one little dance, But soon it ended up a big romance.
Blame It On The Bossa Nova...The dance of love.

(Repeat Entire Song)

Womenfolk’s Talent Offsets the “Put-On”

The Womenfolk are a big put-on until you get to know them. They all come on at first like five eccentric, way out folk-singers, but they really are just five warm, talented singers.

Judy Fine, 22; Leni Ashmore, 23; Barbara Cooper, 22; Jean Amos, 24; and Joyce James, 25, make up the Womenfolk. These young ladies were individual folk singers in different clubs until they got together.

"It came about when all of us fell in love with the same man—Watermelon Harris from Hoboken. That’s why we all moved to New York," said Leni.

"We each take a day and the other two days he spends recuperating. He takes us each to the park," said Jean.

The Womenfolk actually got together during auditions for folk singers at The Troubadour in Los Angeles. They now have built quite a reputation as a concert attraction and spend most of their time on the road.

They record for RCA Victor and are doing a tour in England and then going on to Toronto to do a pilot for a television series in Canada.

Inevitably, as usual is the case with folk groups, the name Bob Dylan somehow creeps in the conversation. The Womenfolk were split right down the middle concerning him.

One half called him the "Poet of Doom" while the other side emphatically disagreed. "He believes things will change and so do we. What about The Times They Are A Changer? We can’t sing songs of hate, we sing songs of hope," said Barbara Cooper.
